Importance of feedback system

Improved Academic Outcomes: Effective and relevant feedback allows learners to reflect on their learning strategies and outcomes, allowing them to make adjustments to make better progress at each stage. But this is only possible when you have a valid feedback strategy designed to determine learners' levels of understanding, which varies depending on the individual, as well as the rate of skill development. Based on the feedback given by each student, you can divide them into groups and set achievable targets or goals to maximize academic outcomes.

The feedback is most important for-

- ✓ Improved academic outcome.
- ✓ Improved Relations and Collaboration with stakeholders.
- ✓ Improved Process and Faculty Performance.

Subject: - Feedback report about Curriculum...

Respected Sir,

IQAC of Rani Laxmibai Mahavidyalaya, Parola collected the feedback on curriculum from the Students, Parents, Alumni and Employees every year. The collected feedback analysed and action taken by college management level. Faculties of college teaches the given curriculum of affiliated University heartly. They show the co-relation of curriculum of affiliated University with employability in government, non-government sector and self-employment.

However, after analysed the feedbacks of Alumni, Parents and Students it is noticed that, there is a gap between the industrial requirement and the curriculum. from the feedback analysis, it is noticed that, the set curriculum of university should be slightly changed and makes job-oriented, so it will help student to get jobs after graduation.
